

Having a hard time finding health care or health insurance for the children you serve?

PCCY can help you find your way.

At Public Citizens for Children and Youth, we know how confusing it is. Our free trainings can help you:

- Understand what health care options are available to children in Southeast PA, including behavioral health.
- Assist families in getting health care and health insurance.
- Find health resources for children and families.

Some school nurses and counselors who have taken our training say.....

“PCCY’s training helped me be a better advocate for students in my school. They provided me with invaluable resources and helped me understand the different kinds of health care that is available to kids in the city. Now I am much more likely to keep trying to get a child help, cause I know there’s a lot out there for them to access.”

“I recommend PCCY’s training to anyone working with children with behavioral health issues. They understand what we are up against and provide training that fits our needs. Their training explains the systems in place to treat kids with behavioral health challenges and provides information on how to get mental health coverage and find appropriate providers.”

PCCY public citizens for children + youth

Call PCCY’s
Child Healthwatch Helpline
215-563-5848 X 17 to find out more.
Or email to dzubow@pccy.org